

Main Branch

This is the primary branch where the stable, production-ready version of the project.

- Never work directly with main branch

Release Branch

Used to fix bugs, final testing, or make minor tweaks like documentation updates or version number increments.

- Fixes are merged into development branch

Development Branch

Sprint X branch work area. Staging area for features.

- Pull down often before starting a feature branch
- Integration Branch

Feature Branch

They are temporary branches to work on new code or changes of a sprint's new feature.

- Task work

Test Branch

Dedicated space for testing without affecting the main codebase.

- Like the main branch as close as possible for tests
- Can be automated
- Bugs found should be put in PBI
